FRANCE AND RUSSIA.

A FORMAL TREATY MAY BE CONCLUDED.

Fatal Fire in London—The Distress in Russia—Chamberlain and the Labor Vote—A Cathedral Struck by Lightning—The Strand Election.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—A Paris dispatch says that the French Government is sounding the temper of the Deputies on the question of a formal treaty with Russia, and that should the sentiment be favorable, a draft of a written compact, which has already been made for submission to the Czar, will be put in shape for that purpose. It is understood that nearly every Deputy, irrespective of party, favors a binding treaty with Russia. The fraternizing between the two countries has been greatly stimulated by the success of the Russian loan under French direction. There is a rapidly growing intercourse, and the number of wealthy Russians in Paris is greater now than for many years past, while Russians engage with Frenchmen and Frenchmen with Russians in business enterprises.

HELPING THE DISTRESSED.

A St. Petersburg despatch gives interesting particulars of the devotion and energy with which the moneyed classes are sending to the assistance of the starving peasants. The officers of a Russian frigate, who had subscribed a large amount for a grand fete on their departure from Constadt, decided to give up the fete and donate the money to the famine fund. The students at the university at St. Petersburg also gave up their annual dinner to the fund, and the ladies of St. Petersburg meet every Thursday for needle and fancywork to be sold for the benefit of the famine sufferers. The humble also contribute, and a Russian peasant gave 500 roubles which he had won in a lottery for the benefit of his hungry fellow subjects. Thousands of Russians have emigrated to Siberia, where many of them are in a destitute condition. In several of the provinces the governments are distributing regular rations to the people in half-pounds, this being the daily quantity for each person in Samara. In the province of Simbrisk the bread eaten is a mass made up chiefly of a plant classed in the Russian pharmacopœia as an emetic. This horrible stuff hardly suffices to stay the pangs of hunger.

THE SOCIALIST CONGRESS.

The attendance at the opening of the Erfurt Congress included visitors, as delegates and private individuals, from France, Holland, Spain, Switzerland, Italy and Roumania. The Congress presented a surprise to those who had expected a repetition of the scenes witnessed last year at Halle. The deputies are almost without exception respectably dressed, and their behavior would be creditable in the Reichstag.

CHAMBERLAIN'S PROGRAMME.

Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain evidently does not mean that the Liberal Unionists shall return to the Liberal fold. He is devoting considerable study to the question of labor in politics, both in England and America, and he is said to intend, like Sir John Gorst, to introduce legislation that would satisfy the legitimate aspirations of labor without alienating the more moderate supporters of the Unionist cause.

LICHFIELD CATHEDRAL STRUCK.

A curious fact is reported in connection with the visit of lightning to the central tower of Lichfield Cathedral today. When the lightning struck the tower the valuable chimes were saved by the iron railings surrounding them, which acted as a conductor for the electric fluid. Lord Grimthorpe, who was in the tower at the time, and was severely shocked, is recovering.

FOR HIS FATHER'S SEAT.

Frederick, son of the late Wm. Henry Smith, has accepted a nomination for the Strand. His election to Parliament is certain.

THE SHIP BISMARCK.

The cruiser corvette Bismarck has been stricken from the list of German war ships on the ground of being unfit for naval use, as shown by the recent manœuvres. The Emperor sanctioned the dismissal of the Bismarck from the navy.

BURNED IN A TENEMENT HOUSE.

This morning a tenement house caught fire at Millwall. The flames started in the lower part of the house, with the result that the rickety stairs leading to the upper floor burned away, thus cutting off escape. The firemen could do but little in the way of rescuing the unfortunate inmates. When the fire was extinguished the bodies of an old woman of 70, a young woman and three children were found, all huddled together.

Spoiled Mutton.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—The steamship Paramatta, arrived at Plymouth, reports that while coming through the Gulf of Aden she broke the crank shaft of her freezing engine. Twenty hours elapsed before the necessary repairs could be effected. In that time 20,000 carcasses of Australian mutton, which formed a portion of the Paramatta's cargo, were spoiled by the action of the intense heat which prevailed.

Arresting Students.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 16.—The Government has closed the University of Kieff, after having placed 500 students of the institution under arrest.

The Louisiana Lottery Scheme.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Postmaster-General Wanamaker has written a letter to Postmaster-General Haggart, of Canada, informing him that the Louisiana Lottery Company has established an agency at Toronto, and is flooding the United States with its circulars in sealed envelopes from that point. The act of mailing, constituting the offence, does not occur within the jurisdiction of the United States, hence the penal clause does not apply. In his letter Mr. Wanamaker says that lottery tickets and lottery circulars have been held by the secretary of the treasury to be liable to customs duties. His ruling is not inconsistent with treaty stipulations, for article 2 of the universal union forbids the mailing of any article from one administration of the union, which, under the laws of the country of destination, is liable to customs duty. Postmasters at exchange offices are instructed to stamp all matter which they suspect to contain matter liable to customs duty. Mr. Wanamaker requests the postmaster-general to instruct the postmaster at Toronto to stamp all letters mailed there by J. C. McCullough, the agent of the lottery company.

REV. DR. CHARLES A. BRIGGS,

The Presbyterian Clergyman Who is to be Tried for Heresy.

By the close vote of 64 against 62 the New York Presbytery has decided to try Dr. Briggs, Professor of Hebrew in the Union Theological Seminary, New York, on two charges set forth with minute specifications by a committee appointed at a previous meeting of that body. He is charged with teaching doctrines in his inaugural address to the seminary mentioned which conflicts with and are contrary to the Bible and the standards of his church, and with being unsound in his views as to the character, state and sanctification of believers after death. Dr. Briggs will conduct the defence personally.

He is regarded as the head of the new school of Presbyterians, and in learning and ability commands the attention of educated people everywhere. The expectation seems to be that he will be found guilty of the charges made against him, with the probable result that he will withdraw from membership in the religious body of which he has been long an ornament.

Dr. Briggs was born in New York city in 1841. After his graduation at the universities of Virginia and Berlin he entered the Union Theological Seminary, New York, where he was graduated with the class of 1863. He spent the following few years in a business pursuit. In 1870 he was chosen pastor of a church at Roselle, N. J. Since 1875 he has been connected with the Union Theological Seminary as professor.

NEW WESTMINSTER.

Work on the Railway—Betting on McLean—Harvest Festival.

NEW WESTMINSTER, Oct. 16.—The injunction obtained against the Southern Railway Company by James Punch, M.P.P., was dissolved yesterday. Work on the line is going ahead to-day at a tremendous rate and is expected to be finished in a couple of weeks.

The betting is all in favor of McLean here. His backers seem to think he will have a comparatively easy time in whipping Hanlan.

The harvest festival in Holy Trinity Church last night was a very grand affair. The church was beautifully decorated; the Bishop officiated in full vestments and there was an immense congregation.

There was a big crowd at the Innes band concert this afternoon. Everybody was delighted.

The Westminster Rifle Association will hold a match to-morrow at the range. There will be valuable prizes.

The Anti-Trust Law.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 16.—Last night W. C. Phipps, Theodore Mardler, G. Neeley and James McClure were arrested in Oswego for violating the anti-Trust law of the State. The information alleged is that a number of insurance companies had combined for the purpose of controlling and raising the rates of commercial insurance in Oswego; that the defendants were there as a committee to carry out and maintain that agreement, and to that end demanded the privilege of examining the books of all companies doing business in that city. When this was refused, they telegraphed to the various companies for such authority, and in most instances it was granted. E. F. Ware, of Fort Scott, representing the defendants, introduced a motion to quash the information, and in support of it contended that the anti-Trust law, in so far as it affected insurance companies, was unconstitutional, for the reason that it conflicted with the commercial law of the United States Constitution, that it conflicted with section 16 of article 2 of the State Constitution, and that the Act was not passed in conformity with section 15 of article 2 of the State Constitution. Judge J. D. McCuver overruled the motion and the case went to trial. It occupied the attention of the court for two days. The jury to-day, after deliberating several hours, returned a verdict of guilty as to Phipps and Mardler, and not guilty as to Neeley and McClure. The case will be appealed.

THE GALE STILL BLOWS.

The Worst Experienced for Many Years—Vessels Knocked About in the Harbors—Damage on the Clyde—A Menagerie and a Theatre Wrecked.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—To-day the gale is blowing with increased fury in the Irish Sea. It is impossible to describe the full grandeur of the colossal foam-crested waves which, gathering in volume and increasing in momentum, rush in on the shore only to disappear in a great cloud of spray and thunder of sound. Old coastguard men and people who have spent their lives along the coast, say that never before have they seen such seas, or witnessed so terrific a warfare of the elements. Many of the storm-beaten vessels which, during the past two days, succeeded in making some harbor of refuge, hoping to repair damages, are now laboring so heavily under the force of the renewed gale that they are dragging anchors and fouling each other. A number of these vessels are in imminent danger of destruction.

A telegram from Portland says that a Dutch man-of-war has been in collision off Portland Bill. The other vessel was the British bark Mystic Star, of Sunderland. Both vessels were greatly damaged.

Of recent years, by the expenditure of immense sums of money, Dover has been made a harbor of refuge. Long, powerfully built jetties have been thrown out seaward, and a huge granite pier called the Admiralty pier, one-third of a mile long, has been built. At the commencement of the storm the piers and jetties were continually washed by the waves and the pounding the pier has received has been so severe that a great amount of damage has been done to it. Huge blocks of granite of several tons weight have washed out of place in spite of the ironwork and cement which hold them, and little more than the bare foundations remain. The oldest veteran seamen admit they do not remember worse weather and heavier seas off the English coast.

At Dover the stack of a brick chimney was hurled down with such force that it smashed in a roof on which it fell, and buried in the ruins the inmates of the house. A number of women and children were badly injured by the crashing rafters and tiles.

Many vessels have been seen driven helplessly past Dungeness light flying signals of distress. Local life boats are unable to be of any assistance. The storm at Leicester wrecked a large menagerie, killing many animals and wounding a number of others.

Additional reports from Glasgow say the storm was undoubtedly the most severe since the terrible Tay bridge disaster. The ship Urania broke from her moorings and crashed into the Italian barkentine Girolmina. The latter's foremast snapped and the vessel was completely dismasted. Both vessels drifted down stream, the crews being utterly powerless to control them. Finally the Urania crushed into the sheds of the Anchor Line Steamship Company and this enabled her to be captured and made fast. Two coasting vessels have foundered in Loch Long, a branch of the Firth of Clyde, and six of their crews have been drowned. The ship Helen Brewer capsized at Glasgow and over a dozen yachts, a number of coasting vessels and many lighters are ashore in the Clyde. Four stranded lighters have already sunk and several others are almost certain to become total wrecks. The steamship Anchoria, of the Anchor line, grounded at Greenock, owing to the force of the hurricane. All incoming steamers report having encountered fearful weather.

Telegrams from Wellingborough, on the Northwestern Railroad, state a theatre there has been blown down. A large audience had barely left the building when a powerful blast swept down and reduced it to a shapeless pile of lumber and bricks. Had the building fallen a moment sooner a number of people would have been buried in the ruins.

NANAIMO NEWS.

A Disturber of the Army — Fight With Knives—Attempted Suicide.

NANAIMO, Oct. 16.—An individual entered the Salvation Army meeting last evening and insulted one of the lady lieutenants, when a champion arose in the person of a soldier, who struck the man. The result was a great commotion among the audience. It was with difficulty that the men were taken from the building and a free fight ensued on the outside. Cries of "shoot him" were heard, but no weapons were drawn, and a little while after the police arrived but no arrests were made. The mob was dispersed without any difficulty.

A FIGHT WITH KNIVES.

An angry celestial attacked a white man with a knife yesterday morning for some slight provocation, and was in turn attacked by the white man with a like weapon. A lady passing at the time the affray was taking place fainted at the sight. Before any serious injury was inflicted on either man a friend of the white man concluded to bring the fight to an end, so he picked up a billet of wood and knocked the China man down, which had the desired effect.

LIVELY AT WELLINGTON.

The aspect of affairs at Wellington appears to be exceedingly lively, especially at night time. The monotony of the evenings has been somewhat changed by a visit of the Indian quack doctor, who succeeds in interesting the inhabitants by his quaint stories. Several individuals have made their appearance at the camp, being induced thither by the large monthly pay. The new townsite is fast appreciating, and the progress of the place is greater than it has been for many years. A better feeling prevails towards Nanaimo, and trade between the two places has greatly improved.

CUT HIS THROAT.

A man known here as old "Charlie," and who for some time was in the employ of Dr. Davis as cook, attempted to commit suicide this morning by cutting his throat with a knife. Mr. W. Myles, proprietor of the Grand Hotel, missed the man at breakfast time, and on going in search of him discovered him in the closet with his throat cut and the knife in his hand. He immediately took the knife from him, and went for the doctor and also gave information to the police. The man was found sitting on the seat with a hole in his throat, from which there was a dark red fluid flowing, and on the floor was about two quarts of blood. The dead appeared to have been enacted about five minutes previously. Asked, "What have you done, Charlie?" he replied, "Cut my throat." "What did you do it for?" "I am tired of my life." He is now in charge of the police, and the doctors think he will recover. The knife used was evidently bought for the occasion, as it is perfectly new and is such as is usually used by a man-of-war's man. Charlie has been suffering from the after effects of a spree, and it is thought he attempted his life while in a fit of the blues.

THE EVANGEL BLOWN UP.

One Man Killed and Another Severely Wounded.

The boiler on the steamer Evangel exploded at 10:15 on Wednesday evening, while the boat was lying at the wharf at Sehome. So far as learned one deck hand was killed, and the list of the injured is as follows: W. Biggs, Lopez Island, scalded, and will die; J. Flint, a fireman, burned severely, will die; A. Briggs and J. Cook, slightly burned; David Russ, thrown against the deck and injured hip; Steward Lindberg, pretty badly burned. Fireman Fermey got slightly burned about the head. All the mail was burned with the exception of the registered letters, which were saved. The officers, with the exception of Mate Davis, had left the boat just a short time before the explosion occurred. Davis was not hurt.

The wounded men were taken to the Port Townsend Hospital yesterday. The steward saved himself from being saddled to death by covering himself up in his blankets when the alarm was first given.

The old Evangel has many a good story connected with her. She was built by subscriptions from Sunday school children, but did not follow very closely the business she was built for, viz: missionary work. She carried the mails between Sitka and Puget Sound for some time. She could not steam more than about two miles an hour. She was often accused of smuggling when ex-Collector Beecher was her purser.

To Stop Sunday Papers.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—A Pittsburg dispatch to the Herald says: The Western Pennsylvania Sabbath Association has induced the Law and Order Society to "go gunning" for the newspapers. The report is that all the employees of three Sunday papers here working after midnight next Saturday will be arrested while on duty and bound over to answer under the blue laws of 1794. As soon as they are disposed of, if the papers come out, as they of course will, the agents, carriers and newsboys will be taken into custody. The same treatment will be administered to the persons employed on the four morning papers of Pittsburg, when they come out Sunday afternoon to begin the regular grind on the Monday edition. The law and order officials refuse to admit that this is their plan, and it seems more likely that they will content themselves with taking the names of the wicked newspaper people on Monday, effecting the arrests on the Monday following. There is no doubt, however, that they will make a determined fight on the Sunday paper question. They have already closed in Pittsburg and Alleghany, on Sunday, all saloons, barber shops, confectionery establishments, cigar stores, soda and soft drink counters, and all manner of business concerns except railroads, telegraph offices, blast furnaces, and newspaper plants.

The Pope's Position.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—In a recent interview one of the most prominent cardinals, known to be an intimate friend of the Pope, and one of his advisers, said that the Vatican is convinced that the late disorders in Rome, precipitated by French pilgrims, were really instituted by the Italian government which has become jealous, growing out of the influence of the Pope and the amicable relations existing between France and the Vatican. The cardinal declared that the Italian government would prefer the assassination or expulsion of the Pope to the present situation. The Pope himself recently said:—

"I am no longer a prisoner, but a hostage, menaced with expulsion or assassination unless I capitulate before the enemy."

The cardinal, continuing, said the Pope would never accept the present situation, but nothing was yet decided upon in the matter of his leaving Rome. It is said in ecclesiastical circles that the occupation of Rome by Italy would be like the finish to the French commune, by the massacre of hostages.

The German Title Scandal.

BERLIN, Oct. 15.—A case something like the French decorations scandal has just been concluded here. A pamphlet recently appeared charging Herr Manche, ex-chief of the civil cabinet of William I., with accepting bribes for his services in preferring titles. Soon after a manufacturer named Thomas Manche gave a formal version of the affair, deposing that he had paid Manche 3000 marks to obtain for him the title of Commissioner of Commerce and afterward confided to Manche 30,000 marks to distribute in charities. In his defence Manche denies receiving the first gift and says he returned all of the second he had not paid over to the charities. There was other evidence, however, going to show that Manche was in the habit of taking more money for payments for services of this kind, and that Police Captain Grieff and Countess Hacke were his accomplices. Manche has been sentenced to nine months imprisonment. The developments have created a sensation in Berlin society.

Balmaceda's Letter to His Mother.

VALPARAISO, Oct. 15.—A letter of Balmaceda's to his mother, written only a few hours before he committed suicide, has just been made public. It is as follows:

"Dear Mother—I go on a long journey. No time to bid you farewell. My implacable enemy will not now succeed in condemning me. The only thing I recommend is that you maintain your religious faith. Your son, MANUEL."

Procurator Faz, who was supposed to have been shot on the day the junta captured Valparaiso, is alive after all. He is not in jail. With other political prisoners of prominence he will be tried by tribunals.

A Church Scandal.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 16.—A watch has been placed over the Rev. H. C. Bowers, the central figure in a church scandal, to prevent him from committing suicide. He is so prostrated mentally and physically that his friends fear he would kill himself if left alone. The scandal has spread to an alarming extent, and will probably end in formal charges of immorality being made against some of the minister's accusers. The committee which forced the resignation of Dr. Bowers have publicly connected his name with a woman named Jackson, the wife of a blacksmith. If the present programme is carried out, Dr. Bowers will be arrested on a criminal charge.

Let's reason together. Here' a firm, one of the largest the country over, the world over, it has grown, step by step, through the years to greatness—and it sells patent medicines!—ugh!

"That's enough!"—

Wait a little—

This firm pays the newspapers good money (expensive work, this advertising!) to tell the people that they have faith in what they sell, so much faith that if they can't benefit or cure they don't want your money. Their guarantee is not indefinite and relative, but definite absolute—if the medicine doesn't help, your money is "on call."

Suppose every sick man and every feeble woman tried these medicines and found them worthless, who would be the loser, you or they?

The medicines are Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," for blood diseases, and his "Favorite Prescription," for woman's peculiar ills. If they help towards health, they cost $1 a bottle each! If they don't, they cost nothing!

Balfour Offered the Leadership.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—St. Stephens Review claims that it has authority to state that Salisbury has offered the leadership of the Conservative party in the Commons to Balfour.

Mothers

Castoria is recommended by physicians for children teething. It is a purely vegetable preparation, its ingredients are published around each bottle. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, regulates the bowels, quiets pain, cures diarrhœa and wind colic, allays feverishness, destroys worms, and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Castoria is the children's panacea—the mothers' friend. 35 doses, 35 cents.

A QUARTER OF A CENTURY AGO

There settled in Baker county, Oregon, near what is now Baker City, a man who has since become identified with the resources and development of that country. This man is no other than Mr. John Stewart, one of the wealthiest and most influential citizens in the county. In a recent letter he says: "I had been suffering from pains in my back and general kidney complaint for some time, and had used many remedies without any but temporary relief. The pains in my back had become so severe that I was prevented from attending to my work and could not move about without the use of a cane. Hearing through a friend, of the wonderful cures effected by Oregon Kidney Tea, I was induced to try a box, and from that very first dose I found instant relief, and before using half the contents of the box the pains in my back entirely disappeared. I have every faith in the virtues of the Oregon Kidney Tea, and can conscientiously recommend it to my friends. I would not be without it for anything."

Oregon Kidney Tea cures backache, incontinence of urine, brick dust sediment, burning or painful sensation while urinating, and all affections of the kidneys or urinary organs of either sex.

THE ANNEXATION MOVEMENT.

A dispatch from Belleville, Ont., says that a large and enthusiastic meeting on behalf of political union with the United States was held there this evening. Among the speakers were Sol. White, M.P.P., and Dr. Brien, ex-M.P. for South Essex. At the end of the meeting a resolution was passed in favor of political union, every person rising to his feet to show his sympathy with the movement.

So says a dispatch from Toronto this morning. It is evident that the political union idea is gaining ground in Ontario, for a few years ago such meetings as those in Windsor and Belleville would have been impossible. For this spread of annexation sentiment the folly of Conservative rule is directly responsible. As Mr. Blake said in his West Durham letter, this rule "has left us with our hands tied, our future compromised, and in such a plight that, whether we stand or move, we must run some risks which else we might have either declined or encountered with greater promise of success." One of the principal "risks" which Mr. Blake had in mind was the starting of such an agitation as that inaugurated at Windsor and Belleville, which is indubitably the outcome of the evil circumstances he mentions. The breaking up of Sir John Macdonald's system of government by corruption as a consequence of its author's death, the disgusting revelations of the past session, and the slow progress of the country, as shown by the census, utterly discrediting the N.P., have led many Conservatives to "despair of the commonwealth." As is frequently the case, the reaction has carried these men to an extreme, and they lose sight of all remedial measures milder than that of complete union with the States. This is evidently the history of such cases as that of ex-Mayor Manning of Toronto, who declared for annexation some weeks ago. With Sol White it is different, for he has long been in favor of political union. The Empire has undertaken to read Mr. White out of the Tory party, but the Empire's fulminations seem to have no terrors for him, as he is boldly continuing the crusade.

The moral to be drawn is that we want a change of government as soon as possible. With the Liberals in power there would be a prospect of our securing the benefits of free commercial intercourse with the United States while still retaining our own political independence. The complete failure of the policy of commercial isolation is in the main responsible for this annexation movement; the inevitable inference therefore is that we should try a different policy without losing any time. There is no prospect of such a change so long as the present ministry is in office. The crooked course pursued by Sir John and his colleagues in regard to reciprocity naturally disgusted the Washington administration and left but a poor chance for successful negotiations, as witness the several postponements of the proposed meeting. Mr. Blaine is also quite well aware that the regime of the Tories makes towards annexation, so we need not expect him to be in any hurry to negotiate for reciprocity. The longer the Abbott Government continues in office the longer will the country have to wait for freedom and the more numerous will grow the disciples of Sol White. That such a programme is entirely to Mr. Blaine's liking was quite clearly shown by the New York Herald's correspondent recently, when he represented the Secretary of State as looking without regret on the result of the general election last spring, because he expected to see the political union sentiment ripen under Conservative rule. Late developments must have tended to confirm Mr. Blaine in this view. We commend this state of affairs to the attention of those people who shout so much about the old flag and British connection.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Rev. Dr. McCormick, of Kingston, evidently has no fear of Mr. Chapleau. In a lecture which he delivered lately he said "Miss Canada's establishment was very much like the Highlander's gun, which, to make it serviceable, needed a new stock, a new lock and a new barrel."

It seems that Toronto is also to have a new census taken about the end of this month. It will be in charge of the police commissioners, who will utilize the whole police force in the work, the plan followed being to distribute papers over the city, which the constables will be able to gather up in two days.

Thomas McGreevy, says an Ottawa dispatch, is asking for the $700 of sessional indemnity which he considers is due him. Uncle Thomas' cheek is equal to that of Sir Hector Langevin, who wanted to be allowed mileage to and from Quebec for the past session, although he lived in Ottawa. In view of all the money these two have illegitimately taken from the public chest, a term in prison instead of a sessional indemnity would seem to be their proper reward.

The convention of the Ontario Patrons of Industry lately held in London adopted a platform containing the following planks: Maintenance of British connection; reservation of public land for actual settlers; abolition of the Senate; tariff for revenue only, so adjusted as to fall as far as possible upon luxuries and not upon necessaries of life; reciprocal trade on fair and equitable terms between Canada and the world; effectual legislation that will protect labor, and the results of labor from combinations and monopolies which unduly enhance the price of articles produced by these combinations and monopolies; prohibition of the bonusing of railways by government grants except when opening up new territory.

The TIMES claims that an increase of 9000 now over the official count made by the Government will be so satisfactory to the Ottawa authorities that an increase in the per capita grant from the Dominion will be given this province, the manner in which Victoria's recount has been taken resulting in an increase of 8720! * * * * The World declines the TIMES' invitation to join it in the raid on the Federal treasury.—Vancouver World.

The TIMES made no such claim as is stated by the World. We pointed out that if the population of Victoria was actually greater than represented by the Dominion census the whole Province must be cheated out of a proportionate amount of revenue, but we made not the slightest suggestion of a "raid on the Federal treasury." While posing as a moralist our Vancouver contemporary should take care not to break the commandment: "Thou shalt not bear false witness."

A GOOD SUGGESTION.

TO THE EDITOR:—I see that the authorities of Victoria propose spending some money advertising the city. Along with that if they clear the way for a new settler to get to know where the Government land is on the Island, and have some one to show him maps of land taken up, and where to go for land that is open, it will be a cheap way of advertising; besides conferring information I have not found, although I have called several times at different offices in the Government buildings. I have been the means of bringing over twenty settlers already, and more are coming. I am sure this Island only requires the land department to be in earnest to see that strangers are helped to Government land and it will be as full as it can hold in a few years, for this is all that the heart of man can wish as a climate and to fit up a home surrounded with beauty. To go out in the woods here to find a location and to be sure that it is not already taken up, requires (at the very least) maps as as a guide, and something more than a map ten years old, such as was given me. BALDER.

Lord Dufferin.

Lord Dufferin, who has been a good deal about town this season, returns next month to resume his duties at the embassy at Rome. Before he sets forth he will pay a visit to the Queen at Balmoral, Her Majesty sharing with commoner people the delight felt in the society of this versatile and accomplished diplomatist. It is many years ago that Lord Dufferin, not then having added Ava and a marquisate to his style, was lord in waiting to the Queen. He is, strange to say, in view of his acceptability in the highest circles, a Liberal, and began his career with intentions of competing in the political arena. Probably if he had followed that bent he would have reached the highest ministerial post opened to a Liberal peer. But after for a short time filling the office of Under Secretary of India and drifting into the quiet haven of Chancellorship of the Duchy of Lancaster, he suddenly emerged as Governor-General of the Dominion of Canada. Thence he went to St. Petersburg as ambassador, passed on to Constantinople in the same capacity, was appointed to the viceroyalty of India by Mr. Gladstone in the penultimate year of his last premiership, and two years ago was sent to Rome by Lord Salisbury—a rare instance of a diplomatist being nominated to first-class embassies by two successive Governments. Lord Dufferin has of late shown signs of failing health. He is not old as statesmen rank for age, being only in his 65th year. But he has worked hard, hankers after rest, and, it is understood, will early next year retire from active service.—London Correspondence N. Y. Tribune.

A Bungled Execution.

REDWOOD FALLS, Minn., Oct. 16.—Tom Rose was hanged at daylight this morning. At 4:26 the trap was sprung, but the rope broke with a snap. Without a moment's delay the limp body was picked up and placed face downwards on the scaffold. A second noose was pulled down and adjusted. The trap was sprung again at 5 o'clock without attempting to place the body on its feet, and a process of slow strangulation ensued.

FOOTBALL.

The Victoria Football Club (Rugby) will practice at the Hill to-morrow afternoon, commencing at 3 o'clock. Everybody interested in the game is invited to be present and take part. The clubs of the other cities have been practicing for some time and the boys must work if they intend to hold their own this season.

NO MORE KICKING.

Rugby football is dead as a door nail in Westminister, and the intended game with Vancouver on Saturday week will have to be abandoned. When the club was reorganized a few weeks ago everything looked bright for a season of unusual activity, but the interest suddenly died out, and the captain of the team, after vainly endeavoring to get his men together, retired in disgust, and was shortly followed by the secretary. For the first time in years the Royal City is now without a Rugby football team.

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

Matters of Interest Going Forward in the Sporting World Here and Elsewhere.

THE TURF.

TURF TOPICS.

No jockey on the American turf ever made himself more popular in a single season than Fred. Taral. His riding throughout the year has been consistent and honest work and he has exhibited none of that careless, slovenly style that occasionally blots the record of some of the tip-toppers. As an evidence that it pays to do one's best in the saddle we need only mention that Walcott and Campbell have engaged Taral for next year at a salary of $18,000, and he is allowed a vacation during the months of January and February. He has also signed a contract giving second call on his services to David Gideon, from whom he receives $5000 additional. Taral is a thoroughly sober and reliable man, as well as a clever jockey, and though his salary of $23,000 a year is a very handsome one he is likely to add at least $10,000 more to it by mounts and presents from backers. A crack jockey can make a bigger salary than the President of the United States receives.

October, 1891, is likely to rank one of the most memorable on record in the history of the American trotting turf. With Allerton, 2:09¼; Nancy Hanks, 2:09; Sunol, 2:10; Nelson, 2:10, all on edge, with the two stallions matched to trot at Grand Rapids to-day, and with the first named the wonderful Nancy also booked to fight it out at Lexington a few days later, it will not be for want of trying if the shining mark of Maud S., 2:08¼, is not dimmed.

The match which Blundell Maple seeks to arrange by running the crack three-year-old Common against Queen's Birthday in two races for a wager of £5000 for each race is attracting much interest among sportsmen, but the owner of Queen's Birthday, Major Jolce, declines to run at a mile and a half, though he is quite willing to run at two miles, reducing the stakes to £1000 a side, which the winner should give to some charity. Maple has this now under consideration.

The Secretary of the Australian Jockey Club is paid an annual salary of $5000, the handicapper $2500, while the starter is obliged to subsist on $1750 and the judge places the horses for the modest sum of $1250. It may be added, however, that the late handicapper, Mr. E. T. Barnard, after many years of faithful service, has been retired upon a pension of $2500 per annum.

It cost Mr. Blundell Maple $3000 to secure a policy of insurance for $50,000 against the death of Common for the year ending September 11, 1892, and $1500 for an insurance of $15,000 on his recent purchase, the St. Simon-Plaisanterie yearling colt for a like term.

Direct was driven a mile at Richmond, Ind., on the 2nd inst., to beat his own record, 2.06. He failed, however, only being able to pace the mile in 2.06¾.

CYCLING.

PROPOSED CYCLING ASSOCIATION.

The Westminster bicycle club, through their secretary, are communicating with the clubs in the other cities of the Province with a view of forming a Provincial bicycle association. The Westminster club took the initiative in this direction last year, but the matter fell through from lack of interest. However, the scheme gives promise of being carried out this year in a most satisfactory manner, owing to the increased interest in cycling in all the cities. In the four principal cities the membership of the various clubs now numbers over two hundred. One great object of the proposed association is to draw up a set of rules to govern racing, which are at present very unsatisfactory, and somewhat antiquated. Pneumatic tires are coming into general use for racing purposes in the east, but in this Province they are barred out in most contests. Solid tire machines are behind the age for racing, and it is expected that an association would bring the pneumatics more to the front.

THE RING.

Mr. A. P. Butler, advance agent of the Dempsey-Mitchell combination, arrived in the city last evening. He is here to make arrangements for the appearance of his company, the principals of which are well-known to all sporting men. An exhibition given by Dempsey and Mitchell would be one well worth seeing.

"Golden Medical Discovery" cures those diseases which come from blood impurities, scrofula and skin diseases, sores and swellings.

But does it? It's put up by the thousands of gallons, and sold to hundreds of thousands. Can it cure as well as though it had been compounded just for you?

Its makers say that thousands of people who have had Tetter and Saltrheum, Eczema and Erysipelas, Carbuncles and Sore Eyes, Thick Neck and Enlarged Glands, are well to-day because they used it.

Suppose that this is so. Suppose that a quick-witted man was far-seeing enough to know that to cleanse the blood was to cleanse the life. Suppose that by many experiments, and after many failures, he discovered this golden key to health and that his faith in it for you is so strong that you can go to your druggist, buy a bottle, and if it doesn't help you, you can get your money returned—cheerfully. Will you try it?

The remedy to have faith in, is the remedy the makers themselves have faith in.

Salmon for the East.

The steamer R. P. Rithet upon her arrival from Westminster last evening, pulled alongside the steamer Kingston and discharged into the latter boat a large cargo of salmon, which goes east via the N.P.R. She will bring down another load to-morrow evening for the Kingston.

Strained a Blood Vessel.

While running from the Jubilee Hospital to catch a street car on Tuesday afternoon, Mr. Joshua Davies, the president of the hospital board, strained a blood vessel in his thigh. He was taken home by his companions, but was subsequently removed to the Hospital, where he now is. Although painful it is not expected that the effects of the accident will prove serious.

Shooting Within the City.

Latterly there have been several charges in the city police court against persons shooting within the city limits, and the usual excuse given is that the persons charged do not actually know where the city limits are. The magistrate suggested this morning that some official notice be given of the location of the city limits, so that people would have no excuse of "didn't know."

Sunday Evening's Lecture.

Mrs. M. P. Krekel, the well known advanced thought lecturess, will speak at the Victoria theatre on Sunday evening. Her subject will be "Natural Morality Superior to Theological Restraint." The lady had a good audience last Sunday, and there will no doubt be as large a number of listeners at her next discourse. Her mode of speaking is pleasing and her points well taken.

Will Return to Westminster.

The bark Rothesay Bay arrived from Westminster in tow last night. She arrived from the United Kingdom a few days ago with rails for Westminster, which have been discharged, and amongst her cargo there was also 202 tons of freight for Victoria which the captain preferred to bring down himself instead of giving it to a lighter. As soon as it is discharged he will return to Westminster for a load of salmon.

The Work Stopped.

Contractor Sinclair's men were not working on the Pandora street branch of the street car line to-day, and the reason given was that they are waiting for new lines on which to commence work. The work already completed was done in accordance with a plan laid down by the city officials. This was found to be incorrect after considerable headway had been made with the work. It is understood, though, that the company will be recompensed for the mistake.

A Fine Schooner.

Capt. M. Cutler, who went East ten days ago, has purchased the new schooner Agnes McDonald for Brown Bros. and others, and is fitting out at Halifax for this port. The Agnes McDonald is said to be the clipper of her class in Nova Scotia. She was launched this spring, and has since been employed in the Government fishery protection service. She is built from a Burgess model, is 107 tons register, length on deck, 105 feet; length on water line, 94 feet; beam 23.9 feet; hold, 10 feet 4 inches; spreads 1700 yards of canvas, and was built for speed. She has exceeded her builders, most sanguine expectations. It is hoped Captain Cut ler has a safe and speedy passage and that the owners achieve success with their new craft. She will be put into the sealing business next season.

A Galley Fire.

After supper the rooms were cleared and a most enjoyable evening spent in national dancing and pipe music

Foresters in Session.

The Columbia District of the Ancient Order of Foresters held their eighteenth annual meeting yesterday, and in addition to transacting a large amount of general business elected the following officers: H. Waller, District Chief Ranger; G. Hay, District Sub-Chief Ranger; E. J. Salmon, District Treasurer (re-elected); J. R. McKenzie, District Secretary (re-elected); Auditors—W. G. Cameron and W. Nicholas; Trustees—G. Phillips, C. Manson and L. Hughes; Arbitration Committee—G. Wilby, F. Carne, G. Miles, W. Roberts, T. Graham, H. A. Levin, J. Brennan, R. McBride, J. Turnbull, G. P. Dale, J. Lewis and Alex. Sharp.

After the business of the convention was over, the delegates repaired to the New York hotel, where a repast in every way creditable to that house was served, and a "merry, merry meeting" enjoyed. It was shown that the order in this district is in a thoroughly sound financial condition. There was upwards of $20,000 in hand.

Under the Stars and Stripes.

Between 20 and 30 sailors and marines from the British warship Garnet, now lying at Vancouver, arrived in the city on Thursday night, says the Bellingham Bay Express. They came in via Blaine, and by the same means of transportation as the typographical tourist generally uses—that is they walked. They were not given a farewell ball on their departure from the ship because the watch was not notified of it in time. If they had, a ball—a rifle ball would undoubtedly have been given each. They kept to the woods most of the way to the line, not so much that they were in in love with the rural scenery as that they were vigorously pursued, and if recaptured would have been sent to the cooler for eighteen months. The deserters have a salt water appearance spread all over them, but nearly all are mere boys of from 17 to 20 years of age. They are looking anxiously for work, and last evening a number of them secured employment on the Lake Whatcom electric railroad line.

Concert at Philharmonic Hall.

The programme for the concert on Tuesday next proves most attractive. Tickets are selling fast. The Toy Symphony by Holten will be a charming novelty; it is less known than the other symphonies of this character, but it bears the palm for beauty of composition. Each movement is characteristic, the "Landler" and the "Funeral March" being perhaps the favorites. With Mr. Lowenberg as conductor, Mrs. Barnard as pianist, and Mr. Boyles, of the Warspite, as leading violin and cello, the orchestra of twenty one of the best amateur performers is sure of a success. The Warspite band will give three selections, an overture, a march, with chorus of male and female voices, and a polka with piccolo solo.

The vocalists kindly assisting are Miss Mowat and Mr. Russell, whose well-trained tenor voice cannot fail to please. The tickets are $1 each, and may be obtained of Rev. M. C. Brown, of Cedar Hill, and Miss Beeton of Armdale.

Mr. Laffey, the bandmaster, will perform a solo, "Souvenirs de Bellina," which will be an attractive feature in the programme.

The World Enriched.

The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material, welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring time or, in fact, at any time and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

ARTISTIC LITHOGRAPHING.

An Establishment Which Will Turn Out Good Work.

Some weeks ago the Victoria Lithographic Company was formed in this city, and since then preparations for business have been made. Mr. W. R. Creech, the manager, having taken a trip to San Francisco several days ago to obtain a plant.

This plant has now arrived, and is nearly all in position, commodious quarters having been secured in the brick building at the corner of Government and Yates streets, over Van Volkenburgh's. On Monday a start will be made, and a specialty of good work will be a feature of the establishment.

A fast press, driven by electric motor, will be used for turning out general commercial work, while other presses are available for special work of large-sized sheets, which can be printed up to 32x42 inches.

First-class artists have been secured, and in addition to commercial work, a specialty will be made of crayon portraits, enlargements from photographs, etc.

Orders for work may be left at the TIMES office or at the lithographing rooms.

HE WAS NEATLY STOPPED.

The Kingston last evening brought over a passenger named D. Harrington, but who signed himself J. P. Haydon, and who hailed from the bustling city of Fairhaven. Harrington was on pleasure bent. He is a man of about middle height, florid complexion, red hair and well kept moustache, and keen, restless blue eyes. There was another man on the wharf to see him land, but "neither saw the other." The new arrival put up at a hotel and proceeded to work out his mission. This was a delicate one, and was no less than enticing away from her parents Nellie Walsh, a minor.

Nellie is a prepossessing young girl of eighteen or nineteen summers, and came here a short time since with her parents from Fairhaven. Her parents are highly respectable people, and have educated their daughter on the same lines. Harrington, or Haydon, is a married man, but is divorced, and conceived a liking for the young lady. The relationship he sought was discountenanced by the parents, but he tried to get her away in spite of them. Hence his mission here last night. He induced her to leave home with him last evening. The father, however, was on the watch; the police were put on the track, and by 10 o'clock Harrington was snugly lodged in the lock-up.

FIRE AT THE R. C. CATHEDRAL.

A number of persons passing along Blanchard street at 6:30 o'clock last evening noticed a blaze in the tower of the new R. C. cathedral at the corner of View and Blanchard streets. Two of the men, David Blair and Charles Hall, reported the fire at No. 3 hall and an alarm was sent in from box 31. The firemen were on the ground in a short time and an extension ladder was run up to one of the windows. The fire was fully fifty feet above the top of the ladder and it was decided to send the chemical extinguishers up the ladders in the interior of the building. The firemen discovered a sack of charcoal on fire and burning charcoal falling down on the woodwork. One of the tinsmiths, a young man named O'Brien, assisted in locating and extinguishing the fire, which was caused by a spark from the charcoal pot used by the men working on the tower. A change of the wind sent a spark from the burner into the dry sack of charcoal and the falling fire made things look serious for some minutes. The assertion that the fire looked like the work of an incendiary is groundless. Carelessness on the part of the men employed was the cause, and the prompt work done last evening saved the splendid edifice.

At a late hour last evening Chief Deasy heard that a suspicious individual was prowling around the cathedral. In company with Foreman Hinds and a reporter, the Chief examined the building but found no evidence of attempted incendiarism. The loss by fire will not amount to more than the price of a sack of charcoal.

AN UNSETTLED CASE.

The ways of British naval people are certainly queer. As a practical illustration of this statement the case of the sealing schooner E. B. Marvin is a shining example.

The schooner was seized on the 12th of July last for an alleged violation of the modus vivendi pertaining to the closure of Behring Sea to sealers. After her seizure by the United States cutter she was towed into Ounalaska and was handed over to the commander of H.M.S. Nymphe. This latter gentleman ordered the guns and ammunition to be taken aboard the Nymphe, and then wrote in the schooner's log book a brief statement of the case, together with an order to the master of the schooner to proceed to Victoria and report to the Collector of Customs.

Capt. McDougall of the Marvin carried out these instructions, and on the 25th of July anchored in Victoria harbor, reporting the fact to the Customs authorities, but he brought no letter to Collector Milne from Commander Turner, the latter gentleman appearing to have forgotten this matter.

Some three weeks ago the Nymphe came in, and since that Collector Milne has received no communication on the the matter from Commander Turner. The Marvin's guns and ammunition are still aboard the Nymphe, and there the matter rests. She is looked upon by the Collector as under seizure, and he will refuse to clear her from this port.

Meantime the sealing season of '92 is fast approaching. Those who have capital invested in the vessel are anxious to know how this trouble is to end. If their vessel is to be a prize to the officers and crew of the Nymphe they wish to know it, as in that case they do not care to spend money on a fit-out which may be of no use.

The facts are as stated here, and to say the least are a reflection on the business habits of the officers of Her Majesty's navy. There seems to be a lack of promptness in dealing with these matters, which are of vital interest to the parties interested. No case has ever been proven against the Marvin. It has never yet been shown that she was sealing when captured, and months have been allowed to elapse and nothing has been done. This is manifestly unfair to the owners, whose valuable property is under an embargo, with no prospect of it being lifted or any other measure being adopted.

British law, and every other law, demands that an accusation be followed at once by some sort of an enquiry into the case, but in this instance, with all the facts at hand, no move has been made.

The chances are that all this delay will have to be paid for, as the gentleman who controls the Marvin is not a man to meekly submit to an injustice, and he will not relinquish what he considers his rights. The case will be an interesting one when it is fully exposed, and will very likely show that some one has blundered sadly.

It has been stated in a leading American journal that Collector Milne and the authorities refuse to have anything to do with this case of the schooner Marvin. Of course such reports are silly, and merely the vagaries of a sensational and untruthful correspondent, but they lead the public to form a wrong idea of the case. Collector Milne has so much to do with the schooner that he will refuse her a clearance, and meantime she is so much useless lumber to her owners.

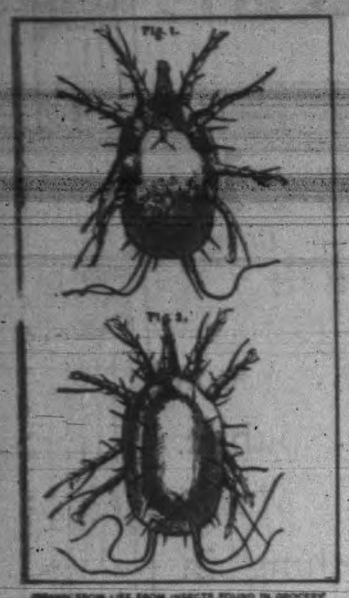
CHINESE - SUGARS; - WHAT - IT - IS - WE - MAY - BE - EATING!



DRAWN FROM LIFE FROM INSECTS FOUND IN GROCERY

In view of the introduction to the Province recently of considerable quantities of Chinese Sugars, it may be as well that the Public should be informed, on the very highest possible authority, of the danger that may be attendant upon their use.

Professor Cameron, Public Analyst, Dublin, a gentleman who has made it his special business to examine all kinds of Foreign Sugars, Refined and other, says that certain kinds of them should never be used. He states that they contain great numbers of DISGUSTING INSECTS, which produce a DISGUSTING DISEASE. Their shape is very accurately shown in the accompanying cut, which is magnified two hundred diameters. Figure 1 is the under side, and Figure 2 the upper. The Professor's description is as follows:—

"This insect ('the Acarus Sacchari') is a formidably organized, exceedingly lively, and decidedly ugly little animal. From its oval-shaped body stretches forth a proboscis terminating in a kind of scissors, with which it seizes its food. Its organs of locomotion consist of eight legs, each jointed and furnished at its extremity with a hook. In the Sugar its movements from one place to another are necessarily very slow, but when placed on a perfectly clean and dry surface, it moves along with great rapidity." He adds that the number of "Acari" found in Unrefined Sugar is "sometimes exceedingly great, and in no instance is the article quite free from either the insects or their eggs." He further says:—"The Acari Sacchari" do not occur in Refined Sugar of any quality, because they cannot pass through the charcoal filters of the Refinery, and because Refined Sugar does not contain any nitrogenous substance upon which they can feed."

COOLIE - MADE - AND - ALL - UNREFINED - SUGARS - SHOULD - NEVER - BE - USED!

Besides its being impossible for Canadian Labor to compete with Coolie Labor, rice fed and under paid, it is well known that Eastern Countries have always been the breeding ground for leprosy and all other loathsome and horrible human diseases, and hand labor there is so cheap that there is no inducement to employ machinery. Home Refined Sugar, on the contrary, is never touched by the human hand from the moment it reaches the refiner until it leaves him a perfectly safe and purified article.

Chilians Feel Humbler.

VALPARAISO, Oct. 13.—The Junta and political circles are greatly exercised over the comments which are appearing in newspapers of the Argentine Republic, in regard to the treatment of officers of Balmaceda's government who have fallen into the power of the present authorities. The editorials condemn the action of the Junta in "persecuting," as they term it, Balmaceda's supporters by imprisonment. Such actions, the newspapers declare, are unworthy of a civilized nation, and they add that the proper course for the victors to pursue is one of forbearance.

The attitude of the Junta towards the American legation is now so conciliatory that the presence of the cruiser San Francisco in Chilian waters is no longer deemed necessary. Captain Schley, of the Baltimore, has so informed Admiral Brown.

It is learned on reliable authority that the name of Augustin Edwards has been presented as a candidate for the Presidency with the assurance that he will be elected. He is a strong man politically, although not credited with brilliant qualities of statesmanship. His candidature will probably tend to settle all political differences.

Colonel Carvallo, who was one of Balmaceda's officers at Coquimbo, and who, while on his way to Peru, was taken from the British steamer at Iquique by the Junta police on a charge of misappropriating public money, is now in jail at Santiago. There are a number of other army officers of the Coquimbo division also confined there.

Arrests of prominent civil and military adherents of Balmaceda continue. Minor officials, on the other hand, are being released daily. It is evidently the intention of the Junta to liberate many political prisoners after the election on October 18.

Their Ineradicable Tendency.

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., Oct 16.—Two farms at East Haddam, bought a year ago by Russian Hebrews with money supplied from the Baron Hirsch fund, have been abandoned by their purchasers, who have gone back to New York. The houses are unoccupied. A Russian Hebrew was supplied with money from the fund to buy the Ladd farm in Salem, and also to purchase the stock. He left the cattle on the farm running loose, and they are now being cared for by Mr. Ladd. Hebrews who have come here and been supplied with farms do not seem to like farming life, and in a large number of cases as soon as they pick up a small knowledge of English they go to some of the large cities.

A Canadian Lady Violinist.

Nora Clench, the talented lady violinist and her company are on their way to Victoria, and will reach here about the 26th inst. Miss Clench is a Canadian, but she does not need to ask for any specially favored treatment on the ground of her nationality, for judged by the severest artistic standards her work is of a high grade of excellence, sufficient to place her well up among the younger virtuosi of the world. The violin is a jealous mistress, years of patient and concentrated study are needed to give the ambitious player even a slight command of it, and usually it is not until youth is past that the violinist can make the strings yield their noblest music. Miss Clench is a striking exception to this generalization. She has become a master at so early an age that Canadians may reasonably hope that as an instrumentalist she will be to Canada what Albani is as a vocalist—its glory and pride.

B. C. FRUIT AND FISH.

The Market Possibilities Offered in More Easterly Regions.

The Winnipeg Commercial, whose editor, Mr. Steen, lately visited the coast, thus speaks of British Columbia:—

Although the prairie country of Manitoba and the Territories has developed with wonderful rapidity during the past seven or eight years, it is a fact that at the present time only the outcroppings around the margin of the country's illimitable resources have as yet been touched; and in British Columbia, while its coal, lumber and mineral resources have been worked more or less for over thirty years, real progress or development has not been even as great as in the prairie country.

The first fact which impresses the commercial economist after an enquiry about both of these countries is that in each it is absolutely necessary that a large proportion of their products, either raw or in a manufactured state, must find an export market, to make a healthy state of trade, and make progress as rapid as it should be in a new, or comparatively new, country. The next fact likely to make itself plain is the wonderful field for an interchange of products. It seems as if nature had formed the one country to produce enough of one class of life necessaries and luxuries for both, and the other to produce a surplus of what its neighbor did not produce or could only produce under unfavorable circumstances. Thus the prairie west, the coming granary of the world, can produce bread for man and food for beast at figures such as it cannot be produced in the Pacific province. On the other hand the vast timber resources, the illimitable coast fisheries and the mild, humid climate of British Columbia, all unite in pointing to that country as the future supply of the great prairie land for building material, fish and fruit. The first commodity is a scarce one in the prairie province, unless in a few favored localities. The home supply of the second depends upon our lakes mostly, and in many western portions of the territories it is as easy to draw from the Pacific as from those lakes. The last named commodity, fruit, can only be produced in limited variety, and under great uncertainty in the prairie country, with its extremes of climate; while the climate and other natural advantages of British Columbia point to that country as the source of supply for the country from the Rocky Mountains to the Red River valley, if only the work of cultivation is undertaken and carried on with energy.

In looking for an export market, the belief is general that such can be found only outside of the Dominion, whereas the exports of an eastern to a western province are as good to the exporting province, as if its products went abroad. In fact the national cupidity displayed by most foreign nations in their systems of tariff makes a home market much more valuable, and the value is still further increased when much of the exports are perishable goods, such as will not bear shipping to markets, where weeks, or perhaps months, are taken up in transit. To British Columbia the prairie offers such a market, and in return the Pacific Province offers similar advantages to the prairie. Keeping this fact in view it is the intention to note in detail some of the advantages thus mutually offered

The eastern visitor to the Pacific province cannot help making expressions of disappointment, if not of disgust, when he makes inquiry into the fruit business of the province. It takes but a short time to find out that the majority of the fruit used even in the home market is imported from California and other states to the south, paying an import tariff, and adding to the trade of a nation which takes special care in legislation to discriminate against imports from Canada. There is but poor excuse for such suicidal business, even if British Columbia was unable to supply its own wants by a system of fruit cultivation. But when the province can not only do this, but raise an almost unlimited quantity for export, there is no excuse for the apparent slowness and apathy about the development of this industry. As to the market in the prairie country, the imports of apples alone exceed 10,000 barrels in a year, and this year will probably go near to 15,000; while in other fruits there is a correspondingly liberal demand, likely to grow altogether to five times its present volume in twice as many years hence. Surely such a market is worthy of more consideration than it has heretofore received from British Columbians, who are in a position to speedily advance to the first place in supplying this demand.

What is true in connection with fruit, is so in a marked degree in connection with fresh fish. With the exception of salmon, the coast fisheries of British Columbia are as yet practically untouched, although they are probably more valuable than those of the Maritime provinces of the Dominion. Cod, halibut, and a number of other delicately flavored fish are to be had in unlimited quantities, and yet but little has been done to develop those fisheries. In fact the home market in British Columbia is far from having a sufficient and regular supply of such fish; and the demand in the prairie country has never been allowed to grow to natural proportions, on account of the uncertainty of a regular supply. Thus the Winnipeg market, for instance, may have a plethora of fresh sea fish one week, for a second car load sent in one week might cause something approaching to a glut, and yet the city is often weeks at a stretch without sea fish. It is evident, therefore, that a regular system of supply must be organized, before the full value of the home and prairie country demand can be realized and profited by; and this will require connections and arrangements in Manitoba as well as on the Pacific coast.

At present Colonel Eogledue and Major Clark are making investigations on the Pacific coast with a view of founding a huge fishing and fish marketing system for British Columbia, which will include the settling of a colony of experienced fishermen from among the Scotch Crofters of the West Highlands, around the coast of Vancouver Island, and the location of icing and curing stations, and establishment of lines of steam crafts to bring the fish to ports, from which they can be sent to export markets. If these commissioners report favorably, and the British Columbia Government extend the desired encouragement, millions of dollars of British capital will probably be invested in the undertaking, and a complete and comprehensive system established for the development of the British Columbia fishing industry. The syndicate who have this undertaking in view, look to the Pacific coast as a market for much of the catch, and if their arrangements are such as will allow of such fish being laid down fresh in San Francisco and other Pacific coast cities, they will certainly find there a market with a capacious maw.

But the greatest market within the reach of such a company, as it is proposed to establish, would be in the central Western States, extending from the valley of the Mississippi to the verge of the Rocky Mountains. Here is a vast populous country chaving in the neighhood of twelve millions of people, and with a fish supply from local lakes and rivers, in addition to what can be spared at times from the already too limited supply, which is simply insufficient to supply one half of the present demand or one-fifth of the demand which would exist, could a regular supply be had at anything like reasonable prices. To take full advantage of this wide market for fresh fish, it is necessary for any British Columbia fish handling concern to have a depot for distribution in Manitoba, say in the city of Winnipeg. Experience has taught Manitoba exporters of fresh lake fish that dumping in huge quantities, even on a big market like the United States, often curtails heavy loss to the shipper, and that is just the mistake most to be avoided, and it can be avoided by the construction of a system of refrigerator storage in this city in which fish can be kept in a fresh but unfrozen state and distributed as required to southern points. From Winnipeg fresh fish can be laid down in the cities of Minnesota and Dakota in less than 24 hours; in Chicago or St. Louis in 36 hours, and as far southwest as Kansas City in 48 hours. Fish in a fresh state can be brought over the C.P.R. through the northern latitude traversed by that road, better in condition and cheaper than by any other route to the east. Once Winnipeg is reached the cheapest place in the world for ice preserved into summer is reached, so that storing and delivering as wanted would be cheaper than anywhere else.

The next point to consider is the competition to be met by a company such as it is proposed now to establish. On the Pacific coast there can be little or none, and in the Prairie country the field is almost as clear. In the Central States, and especially at and east of Chicago, fresh fish from the Atlantic coast would be met. But there is little to fear from such competition; as the supply from that source is year by year decreasing, and a market is sought by eastern dealers in the Central States only when a surplus over the demand of the Atlantic States can be had, and that is not too frequent now. In fact at the present rate of decrease in supply, and increase of population, the Atlantic coast fresh fish supply must soon be too limited for even the Atlantic States. There is therefore no danger of a British Columbia fish industry proving a failure owing to over competition. The matter of United States import tariff is also a trifling objection. Three-quarters of a cent. per pound is not a burdensome tariff, and with the bulk of the people of the United States wondering where a sufficient supply of fresh fish for the near future is to be had, there is no chance of the tariff being increased, if indeed it be not wiped out at an early date.

It is to be hoped that whether this English syndicate take up and carry out their object or not, some organized effort will be made to systematically develop the fisheries of the British Columbia coast, which are undoubtedly among the richest in the world. With this hope we will conclude our remarks on the fish question, and in next issue devote some attention to lumber and other interests.

Makes the Weak Strong

The marked benefit which people in run down or weakened state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla, continuively proves the claim that this medicine "makes the weak strong." It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength from which there must follow a reaction of greater weakness than before, but in the most natural way Hood's Sarsaparilla overcomes

"I derived very much benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla, which I took for general debility. It built me right up, and gave me an excellent appetite." ED. JENKINS, Mt. Savage, Md.

Fagged Out

"Last spring I was completely fagged out. My strength left me and I felt sick and miserable all the time; so that I could hardly attend to my business. I took one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it cured me. There is nothing like it." E. C. BROOLS, Editor Enterprise, Belleville, Mich.

Worn Out

"Hood's Sarsaparilla restored me to good health. Indeed, I might say truthfully it saved my life. To one feeling tired and worn out I would earnestly recommend a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. PIERRE MOSHER, 80 Brooks Street, East Boston, Mass.

CHINESE FESTIVALS.

Celebration Which Seem Odd to Occidental People.

[From Harper's Weekly.]

The Chinese seem to go at things in a wrong spirit, and as our knowledge of them widens, we are much amused. The festivals of the almond-eyed folks are varied and extensive, numbering in all thirty-five. XII. Moon, 15th Day, is the festival of Hsiao-han, which means Slight Cold; and it strikes us as particularly funny, for we are more apt to go into mourning over a slight cold than to rejoice in it. The next holiday is Tien-lung-tan, which is celebrated in a manner becoming the Birthday of the Celestial Dragon.

Ta-han means Great God, and this is celebrated XII. Moon, 30th Day, and a fortnight after, on the 15th Day of the I. Moon the Li-ch'un and the Shang-yuen-chieh are both recognized, the first being the beginning of spring, and the second the wellknown Feast of Lanterns, when they try to outdo our Fourth of July in noise and general noisy amusements. Following immediately upon this is the feast of Rain Water, and from our acquaintance with China, one umbrellas, it seems likely that the festival is observed indoors. After this is the Ching-che, and the very sound of it is suggestive of the entomological songsters that frequent the woodland at this season, for this is the day of Excited Insects. Does it not seem that the Celestial is really reversed in all his ideas? But perhaps this festival is one of propitiation, and we would most certainly have a holiday could we limit the celebrations of the excited insects themselves to one brief day. The Vernal Equinox is a perfectly natural festival, although we of the West are not partial to celebrating the changes of nature. Perhaps their weather is more certain and reliable, for a little later is the Ch'ing-ming, or Pure Brightness, and if we had any such holiday, we could count upon a rain-storm covering the entire country, such is the perversity of our weather, and if we had the Ko-pu, or Corn Rain, which is the next in order, a drought would precede and follow the celebration for a fortnight.

The Beginning of Summer is the following holiday, which is alike our social hegira; but the Hsiao-man has no parallel in our lives. This latter is the Small Fulness, and may be likened to the combination of the small boy and the green apple; but that period is generally one of wailing and sorrow. The Anniversary of the Death of Confucius is followed by Mang-chung, or Sprouting Deeds, from which we may judge that the Corn Rain duly obeyed the summons. After the Dragon Boat Festival and the Summer Solstice, which have no counterparts with us, the Hsiao-shu, which is interpreted as Slight Heat, may be found with us to be the beginning of vacation. The formation of Heaven and Earth and Feast of Heavenly Gifts follow closely; and the day after the latter is the Ta-shu. This is great heat; analegous to stagnation of trade and general laziness, which is duly observed throughout our entire country. The Li-ch'iu is the beginning of autumn, and marks the exile of the summer girl; and Chu-shu, or Stopping of Heat, suggests by its accent the railroad train which bears the homeward-bound tourist.

The Po-lu is the White Dew that follows, which with us usually marks the exit of the straw hat. But White Dew, or our Jack Frost, seems to have given place this year to a repetition of Great Heat. Autumnal Equinox and Mid-autumn Festival are the succeeding delights of the Celestial, and then comes the Cold Dew. It is hard to catalogue this day, but the coal barons must delight in it, although they have no special public celebration. Then the Birthday of Confucius and Chung Yung Festival are followed by Frost's Descent, which only serves to render our ideas of the colors and degrees of dews previously celebrated more perplexing than ever. The Li-tung marks the beginning of winter, and may be noted by us as the appearance of the ulster, and Slight Snow, musically known as the original as Hsia-hsueh, is just the same as our Li-tung. The Ta-hsueh is Great Snow, which is not celebrated with any great delight by any one except the small boy; and after this distinctively Chinese festival, the conclusion first formed regarding the very eccentric ideas of the Celestial is found to be quite correct.
